Plan for the 50% with Confidence

Cosponsored by the Probate & Estate Planning Section of the State Bar of Michigan

Considering that as many as 50 percent of marriages may end in divorce, the impact on estate planning can be substantial. Thankfully, planners have a variety of techniques at their disposal. Get the big picture from nationally recognized expert Kim Kamin, chief wealth strategist for Gresham Partners LLC and adjunct professor at Northwestern Pritzker School of Law in Chicago. Walk away prepared to handle the unique situations your clients face.

Attend and Learn to:

- Make the most of trusts during divorce and upon remarriage
- Protect the interests of future generations
- Optimize tax benefits and maintain flexibility
- Waive specific property rights using a nuptial agreement
- Avoid potential potholes

“ Kim Kamin is one of the best instructors in the Tax Program at Northwestern. The depth of her experience in estate planning combined with a strong academic perspective engages students in an otherwise complex and detailed area of tax law.

Philip F. Postlewaite, Director, Northwestern Pritzker School of Law Tax Program, Chicago, IL
